Tidewater Power Equipment Company is excited to announce the addition of Rhino Tool Company's gas powered post drivers to our product offering. Along with the gasoline powered drivers, we will distribute the full line of post pulling products in the states of North Carolina, South Carolina and Virginia. The Rhino Tools product line will be a great addition to our diverse offering of quality equipment. We have been selling and testing Rhino drivers in a trial market since August and have received very favorable feedback concerning their quality and dependability. We look forward to introducing this line to our dealers and growing our relationship with the Rhino Tool Company.

Rhino Tools has been building products in the United States since 1975. With the addition of Tidewater Power Equipment, the company now has a network of distributors which spans the entire United States. Rhino builds quality products using quality materials in their Kewanee, Illinois facility. Currently, we will offer three models of gas powered post drivers in our area of responsibility along with several models of post pullers. These three models are built with every level of consumer in mind from farm and home to your every day jobsite professional. With a lifetime impact warranty, you can be sure that the Rhino post drivers will withstand any job that you can throw at them. Please contact Tidewater Power for more information.
